DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-44, drawn to a method for identifying a modulator of PDE10 phosphodiesterase activity, classified in class 435 subclass 7.1.
 - II. Claims 45-48, drawn to a method for treating an animal to a disorder of the basal ganglia with a modulator of a PDE10, classified in class 514, subclass 2, 44, for example.
 - III. Claims 49-52, drawn to a pharmaceutical formation of a modulator of PDE10 activity, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1; 530/350, 536/24.5, 514/2, 514/1, 514/250 for example.
 - IV. Claims 53-61, drawn to a method for assessing PDE10 activity in an animal model, classified in class 514/44, 435/5, for example.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
 - A) Inventions (I, II, IV) and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the pharmaceutical formulation may be used in materially different manners. Because it is not clear from the claims what the modulator of PDE10 activity entails, the modulator may be a nucleic acid which may be used for purification, isolation, aptamer screening methods or antisense methods; may be a polypeptide which may be used to raise antibodies, may be small molecules, may be organic compounds, for example.

B) Inventions I, II, and IV are patentably distinct methods because they each have different objectives, different uses, different reagents and different method steps. The method of Group I is for identifying a modulator of PDE10 phosphodiesterase activity. Alternatively, the method of Group II is for treating an animal to a disorder of the basal ganglia with a modulator of a PDE10. Finally, the method of Group IV is for assessing activity in an animal model. Furthermore, the distinct steps and products require separate and distinct searches. Therefore the methods are distinct over one another.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by the different classifications and their divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. Further a search of each of these inventions would not be coextensive of a search for each of the other inventions.

Notice for Rejoinder

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP §

821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Art Unit: 1634

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to examiner Jeanine Goldberg whose telephone number is (571) 272-0743. The examiner can normally be reached Monday-Friday from 7:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Gary Jones, can be reached on (571) 272- 0745.
